Save big money on paper, toner, filing and monthly fees for archiving and go green and maintain confidentiality by converting old paper forms and medical files into electronic documents.

Who is handling YOUR documents

Proper handling of sensitive documents and materials is essential for the security and privacy of your customers and employees. When the service is outsourced can you really be sure that the information is being handled appropriately? Allow GHA to show you the benefits of going paperless with document scanning and storage solutions from Fujitsu. Save BIG MONEY on paper, toner and filing expenses while you ensure the security of your company's sensitive information internally. See the following page for more product information.

Let GHA and Fujitsu show you a state-of-the-art document archiving solution!

There is a problem confronting business professionals in the office today. Valuable information that is written, printed, copied, and faxed - driving much of our productivity - is kept in piles on our desk, stuffed in folders in our file cabinets, or hidden away in locations around the office. Our paper-based information resources are not being managed in a way that can improve individual productivity or document security. This inevitably results in increased operating costs, diminished productivity, and in some cases, lost opportunity.
